

Children and young people wanted for new Department for Education children's social care advisory boards

- Are you a young person with experience with children's social care aged 11-25?
- Do you live in England?
- Do you want to make a difference?
- Do you like having your say and sharing your views?

We want to hear from you!

We want children and young people with experience of children's social care to join our advisory group.

The advisory group is for 11–25 year-olds.

About our new group

The group will meet 3 times a year in person in London from January until around March 2025

We will also meet regularly online.

The young people will give feedback and advice about their experiences.

If you join our new group, you will:

- Share your experiences and expertise.
- Give your views and advice.
- Talk to adults about children's social care policies.
- Share how to make things better for children and young people with experience of children's social care.

You will need to

- Come to our London office for the in-person meetings.
- The first meeting will be online.
- You will share thoughts and ideas with adults in big meetings and in small groups.
- Work together with both adults and young people

Why you should get involved

We want lots of children and young people with experience of children's social care to tell us how to make things better for other children and young people and how to include them in future decisions.

What you will get from the group

- Get to meet and work with new people
- Get new skills
- Help to make sure adults know what is important to children and young people with experience of children's social care

How you can get involved

If you want to be part of the group, you will have to fill in a short application form to tell us a bit more about you.

The closing date for applications is 20th December 2023.
